GREAT LAKES, GREAT STORIES: FATAL CROSSING

with author and explorer Valerie van Heest

Thursday, May 7 | 6 PM | Carnegie Room

On June 23, 1950, Northwest Airlines Flight 2501, a DC-4 with 58 souls on board, disappeared over Lake Michigan. The wreck was never located and the cause of the accident was never determined. Then, over half a century later, nationally acclaimed author and explorer Clive Cussler of the National Underwater Marine Agency teamed up with Valerie van Heest of the Michigan Shipwreck Research Association to search for the submerged wreck and attempt to solve the mystery of the plane's disappearance. Van Heest will share the story of how an unexpected meeting with a victim's son prompted a search of a different kind, one that would be more illuminating than submerged sections of twisted aluminum, and will reveal that the answers are sometimes found in unexpected places. Call the library to register.
